A CLEAR ADVANTAGE

A 2014 U.S. News and World Report blog started with these words — “You think you know, but you have no idea — this is the true story of student loans.” Student loan debt now looms at $1.2 trillion. Graduates in 2015 were the most indebted in history, averaging $35,000. Two full decades elapse before most are able to get back to zero.

Weimar Institute offers students the opportunity to gain the advantages of a distinctively Adventist higher education experience, but what we don’t do is government loans. With that said, more than 90% of our graduates are able to move into the graduate program or job for which they apply while incurring almost zero debt! In this booklet you will discover a school which not only gives you intentional spirituality, stellar academics, an emphasis on health, and training in practical skills, but one that will place you at a clear financial advantage upon graduation.

CAN YOU AFFORD TO ATTEND WEIMAR?

A better question would be, can you afford not to? Seventy percent of Weimar students graduate with zero debt (as shown in the pie chart below). Educational programs at other schools you might consider will most likely leave you tens of thousands of dollars in debt (see comparison chart below). Student loan debt is especially burdensome — don't let it happen to you!

STUDENTS ON THE WEIMAR EXPERIENCE:

“I had a great learning experience at Weimar Institute; if I had to redo all the courses for my major program again, I would choose to do all of them at Weimar. My learning experience here was much more practical and wholesome than I think it would have been elsewhere.”

“I can’t imagine a much higher quality of education. The teacher to student ratio is absolutely amazing, and all my professors have actively worked towards my success and personal growth.”

“I think the most valuable thing I have learned is how to combine medical missionary work with sharing the gospel. This will really help me in my future since my goal is to become a missionary. Taking care of people’s physical needs, and telling them about Jesus.”

“I transferred from another university. The teachers at Weimar are ones I haven’t found anywhere else. They teach, but then also show us what that looks like practically and teach us how to do that. They are extremely caring and helpful and go out of their way to help us understand course material and succeed.”

“Most importantly, I’ve learned to trust God to get me through life as an adult. Having to work to pay for my way through school has brought a lot of uncertainty. However, persistence has paid off and I’m incredibly thankful for the peace I have gained knowing that God has helped me get through my current program of study and will continue to lead me moving forward.”

DEDICATED TO MISSION SERVICE

Weimar Institute has always been dedicated to missionary work, locally and globally. Our students get the opportunity to participate in local missionary work, such as community health expos, free dental clinics, Reversing Diabetes programs, and evangelistic efforts. Short-term service opportunities overseas have included countries such as Nepal, Lebanon, Honduras, Zimbabwe, India, and others.

STRONG RELATIONSHIPS

By design, Weimar Institute fosters close relationships. Faculty, staff and students live on the same campus, and often work, walk, talk, and eat together. The student population is such that you get to know everyone here. Many of our students have met their spouses at Weimar. We totally support that! It is true that Weimar is not a typical college “dating scene.” However, students who are academically stable, of appropriate age, spiritually and emotionally mature, and open to counsel, are not hindered at all in exploring possibilities for a life partner. If God is leading you to Weimar, we fully recognize that He may be leading your future spouse here too!

LEARN PRACTICAL SKILLS

Learning at Weimar involves more than just textbooks, class lectures, tests, and writing assignments. Our students learn practical skills here that they can use for a lifetime. Their hands on work makes them more capable in the classroom and better equips them to serve others!

ACCREDITATION

Weimar Institute is currently pursuing regional accreditation through the Western Association of Schools and Colleges. The following statement, published by WSCUC, accurately represents our standing in the accreditation process.

"Weimar Institute has applied for Eligibility from the WASC Senior College and University Commission (WSCUC). WSCUC has reviewed the application and determined that Weimar Institute is eligible to proceed with an application for Initial Accreditation. A determination of Eligibility is not a formal status with WSCUC, nor does it ensure eventual accreditation; it is a preliminary finding that Weimar Institute is potentially accreditable and can proceed to be reviewed for Initial Accreditation with WSCUC. The first visit for achieving Initial Accreditation must take place within five years of being granted Eligibility. Questions about Eligibility may be directed to Weimar Institute or to WSCUC at www.wascsenior.org or at 510-748-9001."

Weimar Institute has full time staff dedicated to completing the accreditation process. To assist students with credit transfer needs, we currently have a number of articulation agreements worked out with key institutions.

Currently over 90% of our students get into the job or advanced degree program that they desire. This is a track record superior to most regionally accredited schools.

WHY YOU SHOULD ATTEND WEIMAR:

- Small college environment facilitates deeper relationships among students and faculty
- Excellent academics give you a solid preparation for work or graduate school

COMMITTED TO YOUR SUCCESS

When it comes to higher education, bigger isn't necessarily better. A 2015 study done by the Council of Independent Colleges showed that students attending smaller schools had higher graduation rates and better outcomes than those attending larger schools. Some larger schools are intentionally hiring more faculty and downsizing classes in order to focus on student success. Here are a few reasons why Weimar Institute is already ahead of this trend:

- At Weimar, you learn from the instructor with the expertise in small classes.
- At Weimar, students get to spend time with faculty outside of class, doing practical work projects, evangelism and outreach, and in family settings.
- At Weimar, faculty and staff are committed to the spiritual nurture of our students, which undergirds their academic success.

If this is the kind of close knit, spiritually uplifting learning environment you seek, please contact our admissions office today!
