We get the opportunity to put the concepts we study into immediate practice at the Weimar Elementary School on campus. It adds a new, practical dimension to our classes!

–Bailey Gallant

The hands-on aspect of this program has benefited me a lot, but what I appreciate even more is the focus on how to be a spiritual mentor and leader for students, drawing them closer to the Savior's loving embrace.

Weimar University's BA in Christian Education program is designed to help students to understand Biblical education and implement it in their classrooms and even in their own homes. This program qualifies students for positions in the North American Division as educators and educational administrators.

Weimar University's Christian Education Program

1. Is based on biblical principles and Spirit of Prophecy guidelines.
2. Focuses on the life, ministry, and example of Christ the Master Teacher.
3. Helps develop leaders who will care for the academic, emotional, physical, and spiritual wellbeing of their students.
4. Promotes individualized, practical instruction by maintaining small class sizes.
5. Provides on-site opportunities for student teaching and classroom shadowing at the on-campus elementary school and academy.
6. Prepares students for graduate studies.
7. Gives students practical experience in creating lesson plans and using proper classroom management.
8. Allows education majors to earn money toward their school fees while gaining valuable teaching experience through Weimar University's work education program.
9. Provides overseas, student-teaching opportunities that allow education majors to gain valuable mission experience.

Freshman like Holly are able to gain four years of classroom experience through Weimar University's Education program.

The BA Christian Education program explores a broad spectrum of Christian Education, focusing on biblical principles from both the Bible and Spirit of Prophecy and integrating current educational research. This unique program that combines Christ's methods of true education with practical observation and on-site experience equips students with the tools for a life of learning.

Each of Weimar University's Education professors is credentialed by the state of California in Education and is seasoned with years of experience in public and Seventh-day Adventist education.

BE A GOOD NEIGHBOR

Since August 2017, Weimar University's weekly service program called Total Community Involvement (TCI) has gotten attention. Even peer reviewers from an accrediting team have especially recognized TCI and its impact.

Each week, students, faculty, and staff spend a half-day meeting individual and group needs in the surrounding communities. It's yardwork, decluttering, helping people moving, health education for individuals and groups, healthy cooking demos, visiting with invalids and the lonely, and more.

Thanks to private donations, TCI teams have been able to give over 2.5 million dollars' worth of their time in free medical care and other services since TCI began. It's our way of sincerely and practically sharing the gospel through a helping hand, a smile, or a conversation that can all lead to Christ.

Weimar University was founded to impart a knowledge of God to its students. In order to do this, we follow the most effective methods of education: God's methods. Only by following these methods can we impart true education to our students.

Weimar University admits the students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. Weimar University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs.
