

Bachelor of Music

Studying music has shown me the role of music in God's work. I have gained a deeper understanding of the purpose of music in ministry and my mind has been opened to new ways to create music that glorifies God.

– Dylan Homan

God has given me a passion to use my talents in music for His glory and the saving of souls. By receiving an education in music that is missionfocused, I am becoming better equipped for His service.

–Sarah McRoberts

At Weimar University you can personalize your music education by pursuing one of the following tracks:

1. Bachelor of Music in Musical Arts - This is a flexible track that allows you to explore different aspects of music and other related subjects by engaging in a substantial number of elective courses.
2. Bachelor of Music in Education - If you want to change the world, you must do it through education. We are told, "It is the nicest work ever assumed by men and women to deal with youthful minds." If you would like to shape developing minds through the study of music, this is the track for you.
3. Bachelor of Music in Worship Studies - For those desiring to investigate where music and theology intersect, the Bachelor of Worship Studies is the perfect concentration as it sources the most important principles from both disciplines. Study with world-class musicians who have devoted their lives to advancing the Three Angels Messages of Revelation 14.
4. Bachelor of Music in Performance - Have you ever aspired to lead a music ministry that pierces the hearts of an audience with spiritual truth? The BM in Performance at Weimar University will give you the tools to guide you in making your dream a reality.
5. Bachelor of Music in Composition - According to Ellen White, "...many a song is prayer." Is your desire to promote a more profound worship experience through the creation of new music that elevates God, touches the heart of the performers and listeners, and creates an environment of reverence and awe? At Weimar University you will be able to refine your compositional craft and use it for the glory of God.

BE A GOOD NEIGHBOR

Since August 2017, Weimar University's weekly service program called Total Community Involvement (TCI) has gotten attention. Even peer reviewers from an accrediting team have especially recognized TCI and its impact.

Each week, students, faculty, and staff spend a half-day meeting individual and group needs in the surrounding communities. It includes yardwork, decluttering, helping people move, health education for individuals and groups, healthy cooking demos, visiting with invalids and the lonely, and more.

Thanks to private donations, TCI teams have been able to give over 2.5 million dollars' worth of their time in free medical care and other services since TCI began. It's our way of sincerely and practically sharing the gospel through a helping hand, a smile, or a conversation that can all lead to Christ.

THE WEIMAR DIFFERENCE

Weimar University was founded to impart a knowledge of God to its students. In order to do this, we follow the most effective methods of education: God's methods. Only by following these methods can we impart true education to our students.

Weimar University admits the students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. Weimar University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs.
